Paws for Thought,

I was in on a family discussion some time ago and the chat was about naming the future baby. The mammy said "if it a girl, I will have a name." The daddy said if it's a boy "I will have a name." I felt totally out of my depth and was not sure that I should be there at all!

I was reminded of that occasion when I read this week's Sunday Gospel. Its all about the naming of John the son of Zechariah and Elizabeth. Its strange enough having me listening in but for them all the neighbours moved in with their penny-worth! I am fascinated when God had a name for the child, the only way he could move on was to silence the lot! Maybe that's how we should name our babies—after a period of silence after all it is a time of sacredness.

John is his name and he grew up and his spirit matured and he lived in the wilderness, he faced his own demons.

God bless, Anam & Jerry
